COLTS To Provide Free Shuttle To Air Show Aug. 12 & 13

Scranton, Pa. – The County of Lackawanna Transit System (COLTS) will offer free rides to the Northeastern Pennsylvania Air Show 2017 on Saturday, Aug. 12 and Sunday, Aug. 13 at the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton International Airport.

COLTS will leave the Lackawanna Transit Center at 9:30 a.m. on both days, and will make the last trip of the day from the airport at 5:05 p.m. on both days. COLTS will provide a continuous shuttle between the Lackawanna Transit Center and the airport.

“We felt it was important to provide transportation for this popular event that is making a return to our area after a 17-year hiatus. It is certain to draw many thousands of people, and we want to do anything we can to help make it a huge success,” said COLTS Executive Director Bob Fiume.

The drop-off and pick-up zone at the airport is Gate 28, past the terminal building; there will be traffic control officers in front of the gate.
